Start
Get user input from command line
Convert user input to readable format for api
Parse API to find matching card - check through full card set
If multiple matches are found (IE, multiple cards with same name from same set), ask user which they are looking for Get price from card information
Display price to user